DESCRIPTION

Designed by the studio Plato Design the Basic Twelve is a versatile system of lighting with a great visual appeal that meets all the interior needs. Suspended from the ceiling with two textile cables held by a metal rosette, the two modules have a beech wood lampshade with a dodecahedron shape with gold neodymium magnets on three sides that connect to form infinite shapes and rotate to direct light where needed. The brass holders use 2 x E14 max 10W LED filament bulbs (not included). The innovative aesthetic of this lighting solution will bring a modern touch to both home and work decors.
