BASIC TWELVE SOLO CONCRETE PENDANT

$140

DESCRIPTION

A testament to technological innovation and creative design spirit, this lamp module pushes the boundaries of light and sculptural design. Crafted by Plato Design founders Alessandro Mattei and Caterina Naglieri, this table and pendant lamp module is fashioned of concrete in a dodecahedron shape, the textural character of the ultra-thin shell enhanced by the gold neodymium magnets along the three sides, which allow the lamp to connect to other modules in the Basic Twelve Collection. Boasting eclectic, hyper-modern flair, this lamp will shine in a minimalist or futuristic interior decor.
