DESCRIPTION

The interplay of textures and colors give life to this simple yet daring vase of the Cavi collection that will be the focus of any room. Made of Lavagna stone, this vase is composed of a hand-carved, cylindrical block with a striated finish that celebrates the raw, unprocessed material. The top features a brass plate with a polished finish that encircles the black slate reflecting the contrasting textures. A decorative piece on its own, this vase can be enhanced with the addition of a single stem to add a contemporary look to any living area or combined with others from the same collection.
