CLARONE VASE BY UGO LA PIETRA

$330

DESCRIPTION

Part of the Vasi Flautati Collection, dedicated to wind instruments such as oboe, piccolo and clarinet, this vase is inspired by the shape of the basset horn. Designed by Ugo La Pietra and handcrafted by Sandro Da Boit in Florence, this glossy white-glazed ceramic vase has a long, cylindrical shape with numerous, undulated sections separated by horizontal grooves. The flared base has three curvy tiers that are accented by a delicate band. Available also in black, this vase can be displayed with the other vases from the same collection or used to showcase a single-stem flower.
