COCCIU D'AMURI FEMALE WHITE VASE

$420

DESCRIPTION

Part of a collection that aims at molding the traditional Sicilian moorish heads in contemporary pieces of design, this ceramic vase was handmade in the UNESCO world heritage city of Caltagirone, renowned for the art of ceramics. The white vase depicts a female face with only nose and white earrings, contributing to the minimalist and contemporary look of this piece of design. The neck of the female figure makes up the foot of the vase, and the elongated head completing the upper part gives it an harmonious and smooth appearance that places it in both an interior and exterior living space.
