DESCRIPTION

For this modern revisitation of the seat designed by Pierre Paulin in 1967 for the galleries of the Louvre museum, La Cividina has used 1970s manufacturing techniques. Covered with seamless stretch fabric in a chic orange hue, the clover-shaped tubular steel structure is reinforced with elastic webbing and multi-density memory foam padding to ensure a sturdy yet flexible frame. This seater can be used alone or connected to others using an invisible fastening system to form infinite combinations for all aesthetic needs. Seat height: 41 cm.
