DESCRIPTION

Decorative ceramics sculpture made with the Saggari firing and horsehair technique. The sculpture is created by a press mould technique and then finished by hands to give nice and smooth touch. Each sphere is bisque fired and Saggari Fired in the Raku kiln. There is no glaze on this piece and all colours are coming out from organic materials like salt, sugar and leaves. A tactile sensation thanks to the smoothness of the surfaces. The different pattern on each side make this piece unique.
