GADDI TORSO PINK MARBLE SCULPTURE

$45,600

DESCRIPTION

Minute reproduction of the masterpiece exhibited in the Uffizi Gallery in Florence, this sophisticated sculpture exudes an hypnotizing allure. Hand-carved of pink marble from Portugal, it is believed to portray the torso of a satyr trying to free himself from some bonds. The original sculpture belonged to the Gaddi Family until the 16th century and stood as a model for prestigious sculptors like Michelangelo.
