DESCRIPTION

Casting a warm, effervescent glow in a modern interior, this whimsical light pendant will infuse sculptural charm into any living room decor. This modular design by Serena Confalonieri is composed of three elements: two aluminum cones, connected at the base to form the modular unit, and a blown glass sphere. These pieces can be combined in several colors to adapt to any interior. Here featured with a large green double cone and a small black one separated by two glass spheres, this work of functional decor can be displayed with others from the same collection to create a striking look.
