DESCRIPTION

Behind the simple and clear-cut line of this captivating console designed by Eric Gottein lies a combination of impeccable construction and craftsmanship that place lightness at the heart of the design. Combining the highest quality natural stones, and free of ornamentation, the straight panel legs in gray marble fit smoothly into the notched tabletop that reveals a striped pattern of white Carrara and gray marbles, while the front shows a delicate curve outlined in green marble. The understated forms of this remarkable console are a tribute to clean and contemporary style, giving it a versatility that allows it to be placed in any decor.
