DESCRIPTION

An exceptional artwork that functions as a decorative rug, this piece will infuse any modern minimalist or eclectic home with subtle sophistication. Distinguished by a highly geometrical pattern enhanced with delicate shades of grays and beiges, it is handmade in India using the Tibetan knotting technique 100 line (100 knots in square inch), whereby each textile is blended together before being hand-knotting. This piece is composed of wool sourced from New Zealand and pure silk from China.
