DESCRIPTION

A superb object of functional decor, this striking top for a dining table or console is a true work of art, crafted by hand and boasting various objects that were collected by Danila Bonito for years. This piece is entitled The Tongues of Fire, hinting at the striking coral elements that stem out of the black-colored wrought iron rectangular base. The other elements, that add complementing and contrasting colors and textures to the black base, are antique silver objects, jades, corals, mother-of-pearls, onyx, and calcites. The crystal top is not available. A wrought iron base can be crafted.
