META LIQUOR BOTTLE 30

$370

DESCRIPTION

The body of the Dicrocoelus Wallichii is evoked in the shape of this exquisite bottle, whose lid reproduces its striking horns with their sinuous curves. A perfect vessel to serve and store liquors, this piece was handcrafted of mouth-blown borosilicate glass and its design is inspired by insects' carapaces, particularly the process of their changing them, also called metamorphosis. A striking piece of functional decor, this piece is accompanied with a small print from an encyclopedia matching the item.
