$8,160

DESCRIPTION

Well-designed details define this multifunctional table by Sakura Adachi for Tura. This minimalist piece hides a storage space under the top to hold various items. Supported by slim legs of polished metal, the square base of stained maple is embellished with a cut-out panel with a geometric design. The top is a rectangular tray finished in natural parchment with raised sides that function as practical handles. Ideal for any room, it can be used in a bedroom to store jewelry, watches and other personal items or in a living room, to keep reading glasses and items out of sight.
