PANTELLERIA NAKED JAR

$645

DESCRIPTION

This vase is made with a mix of stoneware and pulverised lava rocks from the island of Pantelleria in Italy. The volcanic series is a visual and physical study of volcanoes: an ongoing collection of vessels made with lava rocks. The vessel's body is made of stoneware and turned at the wheel. The lava is then applied to the surface and melted in the kiln at high temperatures. The liquid appearance of the rock glaze is a reminder of the fire and heat that made both the lava rocks and the vessels.
