DESCRIPTION

Celebrating the ginkgo biloba tree, the most ancient tree species in the world, master artist Alessandro Rametta created a magnificent work of art that will enrich a modern or classic decor. Entirely forged by hand, the metal was embossed, calendared, polished, and plasma-cut. The luminous gleam of copper enhances the life-like depiction of tree leaves, one of which is lying on the square base of the sculpture. This superb piece is polished with thermosetting powder. It can also be made in brass or bronze with an optional finish. The image depicts a work already realized and does not represent the sculpture that will be forged on commission. The freehand sculptural process of Maestro Alessandro Rametta makes each work, although reproducible, unique and unrepeatable.
