Mazzotti 1903

RAISED WITH SPHERES PLATE

$280

DESCRIPTION

This plate featuring a unique and innovative construction was designed and produced by the fourth generation potter Tullio Mazzotti. Like him, the generations before him were inspired by the Italian Futurist movement and even collaborated with many leading artists in the 1930s at the height of the movement. This plate was cooked upside down, supported only by three tiny ceramic points, allowing the entire piece to be glazed, including its supporting spheres. The center of the piece was hollowed out during the modelling process.
