SAGE BOTTLE VASE BY BENJAMIN HUBERT

$540

DESCRIPTION

This bottle-shaped vase is made of white clay and finished in matte sage green glaze with an unexpected powder pink color on the inside revealed through the small mouth. Part of the Seams Collection designed in 2014, this vase captures the innovative aesthetic research conducted by Benjamin Hubert that transforms details of traditional ceramic processes, specifically slip casting, into decorative elements, thus skipping an additional decorating step. A splendid addition to a console or low table in the living room, this vase is best showcased with other pieces from the same collection.
