SPIRALIA RETTANGOLARE RING

$4,270

DESCRIPTION

A stunning addition to a modern jewelry box, this elegant ring is a unique creation made using the lost-wax casting method. The structure is first created in wax into which molten 18k white gold is poured. When the metal hardens, the wax is discarded. The face of the ring, mounted in an irregular structure, boasts a natural grey pearl of 11.5 mm in diameter. This one-of-a-kind ring is size 13, but it can be modified upon request. Part of the Spiralia collection, it can be crafted in other materials and shapes, please ask the Concierge for details.
